This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. THE ART INSTITUTE OF CHICAGO was incorporated May 24, 1879, for the "founding and maintenance of schools of art and design, the formation and exhibition of collections of objects of art, and the cultivation and extension of the arts of design by any appropriate means." The Museum building upon the Lake Front, first occupied in 1893, is open to the public every week day from 9 to 5, Sundays from 1 to 5. Admission is free to members and their families at all times, and free to all upon Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

The Art School, in the same building, includes departments of Drawing, Painting, Sculpture, Decorative Designing and Architecture.

All friends of the Art Institute are invited to become members. Annual Members pay a fee of ten dollars for the year. Upon the payment of one hundred dollars annual members become Life Members and are thenceforth exempt from dues. Governing members pay one hundred dollars upon election and twenty-five dollars a year thereafter. Upon the payment of four hundred dollars governing members become Governing Life Members and are thenceforth exempt from dues. All receipts from Life memberships are invested and the income only expended.

All members are entitled, with their families and visiting friends, to admission to all exhibitions, receptions, public lectures and entertainments given by the Art Inititute, and to the use of the Ryerson reference library upon art.

JEAN ÉMILE van CAUWELAERT

Digitized by Google

JEAN ÉMILE VAN CAUWELAERT.

JEAN ÉMILE VAN CAUWELAERT was born in April, 1866, in Ghent, Belgium. He showed artistic proclivities from earliest childhood, drawing spirited reminiscences of a religious procession at the age of six with chalk upon the kitchen wall. In the common school, which he left in his thirteenth year, he and the now well-known artist, Van Melle, were chosen to decorate the borders of the school diplomas. For a time he attended the Atheneum, a high school free to pupils of high standing, but soon, his father being disabled by an accident, he was obliged to relinquish his idea of becoming an artist and to take up the trade of cabinet making for the support of his mother and her three children. The knowledge of architectural drawing acquired at the Atheneum was now of good service to him.

Upon his father's death, when he was nineteen years old, he changed his trade and found employment with a house decorator, with whom he worked successfully until he was drawn for military service. During his three years and a half of service he studied both art and music, attending the Academy of Fine Arts at Ghent in his spare hours, and being attached to the regimental band. In the Academy he overtaxed his eyes and was threatened with blindness, but he succeeded in winning first the second prize, and then for two successive years the first prize. Later he returned to the pursuit of interior decoration and won medals for tapestry paintings at Tunis, Spa, Brussels, Ostend, Ghent and other cities, but the business was unprofitable, and he went to Amsterdam and employed himself copying paintings in the Ryks Museum, and selling them to tourists. Through all this time, as mechanic, soldier, decorator, musician, copyist, he never relinquished his ambition to become a painter.

It was while copying a painting in the Ryks Museum in 1894 that his work arrested the attention of a gentleman from Chicago,* through whose interest he was enabled to study a year in Paris and a year in Brussels. In 1898 he offered his first picture, a landscape, to the Salon du Champ de Mars, and it was accepted, favorably hung, and well received by the artistic world. In 1899, a year later, his second offering, "Le Retour á la Ferme, en Flandre," was hung in the same Salon, and elicited much favorable comment. The French Government, and at the same time the Museum of Adelaide, Australia, made overtures for the purchase of this picture, but preference was given to a higher offer received through a Paris art dealer from a gentleman in Rio Janeiro, Brazil. With the proceeds of this transaction the artist purchased his present home at 19 Fort Straat, Ghent. This is the only important picture he has sold, and all his works since 1894, with this exception, have been kept together, an extraordinary circumstance. In 1900 he exhibited in the old Salon "La Sortie des Veaux; l entêté." In 1901 his Salon picture "Passage de la Lys à Afsné" obtained for him the honorable title "Membre Associé de la Societé Nationale des Beaux Arts à Paris."

M. van Cauwelaert has been in Chicago for several weeks, and will remain during the present exhibition.
